GREAT MISSIONARY CON-Those playing were Mesdames James D. Hammett, E. W. Taylor FERENCE TO BE HELD ON THE 27TH

MISSION HISTORY

Among the Visitors Will Be Jno. G. Clinkscales and Dr. E. M. Poteat

With all plans completed and everything in readiness for the Interdenominational Missionary Conference the indications now are that the meeting here will be productive of more good than any s'ardiar undertaking of recent years. The conference is to convene on Tuesday, the 27th, and will last through the 28th. The exer cises will be directed by Prof E P. Gaines, of the faculty of Richmond college, Richmond, Va., while other well known speakers to deliver addresses, will be Dr. E. M. Poteat, and Prof. John G. Clinkscales. The mere fact that the latter gentlemen are to be here should insure a large atten dance because they are both well known all over Souh Carolina as being two of the most powerful speakers in the State.

The conference is to be held in Anderson at St. John's Methodist church, and those in charge of the arrangements, W. W. Leathers, J. Irwin Brownlee, L. P. Smith and G. N. C. Boleman, have done everything possible to make all plans complete. This movement is by no means confined to any single church or denomination. It is panned that every denomination in the county and church in Anderson county to take a part in the work and all have been urged to send large delegations and together with that every member of every church will be warmly welcomed. The promoters of this effort, which goes under the name of the "United Missionary Campaign," point out the fact that scarcely one half of the adult population of America are members of any church. The Protes tant churches have about 23 million of members in the aggregate, and the Reman Catholic church reports about 15 millions including all baptized children. This leaves about 35 millions of people over 10 years of age who are not members of any church included in this unchurched population are a multitude of foreign speaking people of scores of different lan miages.

There is hereby plenty of room for aggressive Home Missionary work or the part of all churches.

It is also a time of unusual opportunity to propagate Christianty to to non christian nations. The foreign missionary work carried on for the past hundred years has been our of the prinicpal causes of the great langes of taking pract in Turker rela. Japan China ersin. other countries

The foreign missionary entainise has grown until it is a tremendous world wide business, in which over 24.000 den "aff women miss enaries are engaged and for which the protestant churches of Christendom contribute over 30 million dollars annually. Of this total fully one half come from the United States which has come to be recognized as the most important single factor in the world wide extension of the Christian

A native church of nearly three millions of communicant members has been built up, with four millions more of adherents. About six thousand of these natives have been prepared by long courses of training for the Christian ministry and are now obtained pastors of their own people. But from every field there are calls for great advances. The view of these great needs the Home and Foreign Missionary, leaders of United States and Canada are engaging churches more generally and more furly in this missionary business They hely requested and secured the Laymen's Missionary Movem take general charge of the organisation of the field compaign. The missionary Education Movement has prepared an exhibit of literature which will be used at all of the confereress, lasting two days each, in as many cities and towns 'es possible, Already twenty four teams of the United States alone, in addition to several teams in Canada. Some of these teams will conduct as many as ing churches and whole cities and forty different conferences. Several teams have already begun the holding intasionary output. It is also found of conferences, and all sections of that the churches that do most for the country. The total number of others are the heat of themselves.
